

Jeffries' Barn Gives Way to New Hotel

BURBANK (AP) — Jim Jeffries' Barn, long a Burbank landmark, is being torn down to make room for a new hotel.

The amateur boxing arena operated by the late heavyweight champion has been bought by Walter Knott and will be reassembled at his Buena Park showplace. Jeffries lived across the street from the barn until his death in 1953.